Ohio State has a health insurance requirement.

Does your current health insurance meet your needs at Ohio State?

On Campus

In Any State

In Any Country

Year Round

- Are there in-network providers on or near campus?
- How high are the out-of-pocket costs?
- Will you be able to get the care you need?

Ohio State requires that students enrolled at least half-time have health insurance. Consider your options.

- Select Ohio State's Student
 Health Benefits Plan
- Keep your health insurance and select the campus WilceCare Supplement
- Keep your health insurance and waive
 Ohio State Student Health Insurance

Students must select or waive the Student Health Benefits Plan before August 16, 2022. If no choice is made, students will stay enrolled in the Student Health Benefits Plan.

Selection	Reasons families choose the Student Health Benefits Plan include
Student Health Benefits Plan*	 Low out-of-pocket costs Coverage on campus, at home, while on break and when traveling Covers medical, mental health, prescription drugs, dental and vision Financial Aid can apply to purchase cost Costs family less than dependent coverage on current plan
Waive with your own health insurance and WilceCare	 Family's insurance doesn't cover the Student Health Center at all or very well Offers peace of mind in case of illness or injury on campus at an affordable cost
Waive with your own health insurance	 Student Health Center or near campus providers are in-network Family's plan has affordable cost-share Family pays little or no premium cost for coverage

^{*}A selection stays in place all academic year and you typically can't change an autumn selection to a spring waiver. See website for Qualifying Event details.

^{}Must be active for the entire academic year. The SHI office routinely verifies the health insurance information you provide to ensure compliance with the university requirement.
